East Hartford, CT (May 18, 2011) – Corporate Translations, a leading provider of translation services to the life science industry, recently launched myCTi, a new online portal available to all the translators and linguists they work with. Through myCTi, freelancers are able to submit invoices, update their profiles and obtain training materials.

So far, the response from the translators has been very positive.

“The interface is very intuitive and user-friendly,” said a Ukrainian linguist. “Even more pleasing is the possibility to have all you need in one place. I am sure this will help me to display even better performance. I am blessed to work for such a great company.”

In order to provide translations of superior quality, Corporate Translations ensures that all their translators are highly qualified and trained. They also encourage the continuous involvement in professional development opportunities and MyCTi is yet another way to provide freelancers with any information and training tools they may need.

“This web-based portal is an excellent idea,” said a French and Polish translator. “I especially appreciated the page where you brought together all your resources and tools for the Linguistic Validation process and also the page devoted to Across tips. You are one of the most organized agencies I have the pleasure and privilege to work for.”

In addition to a web-based portal for freelancers, Corporate Translations also offers myCTi for clients where they are able to initiate projects, request and monitor quotes, track the status of translation projects, and generate important budgeting information.
