FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Corporate Translations has been recertified to ISO 9001:2008!

Corporate Translations' thorough use of their Quality Management System was recognized in a recent audit.

EAST HARTFORD, CT. – (October, 2011) – Corporate Translations, a leading provider of translation and linguistic validation solutions to the biopharmaceutical industry, is pleased to announce that SGS (Systems & Services Certification), an official accreditation body for ISO 9001 standard, has granted Corporate Translations recertification to ISO 9001:2008.

Corporate Translations has been ISO certified since 2007 and continues to deliver the highest quality translations to their clients. Not only has the company been recertified, but the audit did not require that any new corrective/preventative action procedures be put in place. This is extremely rare and the auditors acknowledged that Corporate Translations is a model company for maintaining and abiding by their quality management system.

“We are very proud of our quality management system and are always utilizing it to its full-potential,” said Jill Balcerzak, Corporate Translations’ Quality Manager. “Having a well-documented and regularly monitored QMS helps the company to enforce quality and drive continual improvement.”

Globally recognized and respected, the ISO 9001:2008 standard is set by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO), a Geneva-based worldwide federation of national standards bodies.
