Corporate Translations Increases its Global Presence!

Corporate Translations Answers Demand for Global Operations by Expanding their Presences in Japan.

East Hartford, February 1, 2010 – Corporate Translations, a leading provider of translation and linguistic validation solutions to the pharmaceutical, biotech, and medical device industries has announced the opening of its first international office in Osaka, Japan.

Headquartered in East Hartford, CT, with a second U.S. location in Chicago, IL, Corporate Translation's addition of the Japanese production site will provide clients with 24/5 customer service and access to Corporate Translations full array of services and solutions including: translations, linguistic validation, multilingual desktop publishing.

Osaka, Japan has traditionally been one of the major hubs for the world's leading pharmaceutical companies. Some of the more popular companies located in Osaka are: Rohto Pharmaceutical, Novartis, Takeda, Santen and Dainippon Sumitomo Pharma. With extensive commercialization, the city has become one of the major revenue earning areas of Japan attracting lucrative foreign and domestic investments. The new office will enable Corporate Translations to provide a local point of contact to all existing clients in the greater Osaka area as well as cities such as Tokyo and Yokohama. According to Founder and President, Mary Gawlicki, "When making the decision to open a new office, our primary motivation is serving the needs of our clients."
